

IEEE Engineering in Medicine and Biology Society Technical Achievement Awards

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Submission Deadline: 29 January 2016

Nominations are being sought for the IEEE Engineering in Medicine and Biology Society Technical Achievement Awards for 2016. Each award recipient will receive a plaque, an honorarium, and reimbursement in travel expenses associated with attending the EMBS Awards Presentation at the 38th Annual International Conference of the Society. The 2016 conference will be held in Lake Buena Vista, FL (Orlando), 16-20 August 2016 (<http://embs.org/2016/>).

Honorarium $1,500 USD/Travel Reimbursement up to $1,500 USD

For outstanding achievements, contributions, or innovations in any area of biomedical engineering by an individual or group of individuals. Up to five awards will be selected each year.

Qualifications for the award include, but are not limited to, new technologies or significant extensions of existing technologies, research results that extend domain knowledge, and design of new hardware or software having a significant impact in any area of bioengineering.

Examples of eligible Bioengineering Technologies

(additional areas will also be considered)

- Bioinstrumentation
- Biomaterials
- Biomechanics
- Biomedical Imaging
- Biomicrotechnology
- Bionanotechnology
- Biosignal Processing
- Biorobotics
- Cardiovascular and Respiratory Systems Engineering
- Computational and Systems Biology
- Healthcare Information Systems
- Medical Device Design and Development
- Molecular, Cellular and Tissue Engineering
- Therapeutic and Diagnostic Systems

Nomination Procedure

The required nomination packet consists of a two-page nomination form (see <http://www.embs.org/award-nomination-announcement>), a current CV and letters from three references along with their address, telephone, facsimile number and e-mail address. Please include a 300 d.p.i. jpeg image that measures between 1 and 2 inches of the nominated candidate. It is the responsibility of the nominator to contact the references and solicit letters of endorsement.

The complete nomination packet must be submitted online at <http://www.embs.org/award-nomination-announcement> and received no later than 29 January 2016 for the nominee to be considered for 2016. It is very desirable for nominations to be submitted well before the deadline.