

EMBS R9 Video Clip Contest: Inspiring Women in Bioengineering

Call for 5-Minute Video Clip Inspiring Women in Bioengineering

The R9 Engineering in Medicine & Biology Society (EMBS) is pleased to announce the 5-Minute Video Clip Contest (R9-EMBS ViContest) at R9 EMBS WIE Virtual Event, December 17, 2021.

The topic is: How to Inspire Women to choose Medical & Biology Engineering.

We want a gender equal society where women feel empowered. Open-mindedness, altruism, courage, compassion, belief in the potential of people, transformation and women empowerment, these are the qualities we want to transmit to inspire women to choose to be an engineer, but not just any engineering degree, biomedical engineers. Biomedical engineers directly transform people's lives in many ways. Their designs and developments directly impact people and we want those qualities to stand out in the videos.

The contest is open for submissions from IEEE EMB Students, EMB Graduate Students, EMBS members, EMB Senior Members, EMB Life members, IEEE members and non-EMB members including undergraduates and graduate students of all majors, as well as researchers from all over the world.

Each team must be composed of:

- (i) Three to Six team members.
 - a. One EMB Member, EMB Life Member, EMB Senior Member or EMB Graduate Student Member: Role Supervisor;
 - b. A minimum of two team members.

Note: Non-EMB members can participate on the contest. At least two team members must be either IEEE EMBS Students members, EMBS Graduate students members or EMBS members by the time they submit the full 5-minute video.
